

Information Security Management Certificate

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the undergraduate certificate in Information Security Management Certificate, the graduate will be able to do the following:

- 1) Develop policies and procedures that ensure the safety of an organization's information assets without harming the productivity of the organization
- 2) Perform risk assessments to identify potential threats and design mitigation plans
- 3) Develop an understanding of the compliance management process to meet governmental requirements and laws such as HIPPA or GLB

Find out more about an Information Security Management Certificate

<http://uwf.edu/cob/departments/management/certificate-programs/information-security-management/>