

UWF TeCMEN Workshop

Motivating Employees: Leaders understand that each employee has his own characteristics and each employee has different motivational needs. If you develop a sense of understanding about how to motivate employees, then your business can achieve a new level of performance. The course will cover the characteristics that motivate teams, mistakes to avoid and how to build trust among employees. During the workshop participants will take a motivation quiz, discuss work ethics, and explore ways to improve job satisfaction. This is an encore presentation of from the first Supervisory Skills class in Spring 2010.

Course Leader: Dr. David Goetsch -- author, community leader, and one of TeCMEN's founding fathers

Location: The session convenes upstairs in the library (bldg 8 rm 841) at the UWF Fort Walton Beach Campus; 1170 Martin Luther King, Jr. Boulevard.

Date: Wednesday, September 15. Time: 8:30 AM – 10:00 AM.
