Memphis Facts

In June 2006, President and Mrs. Bush arranged a special tour of Graceland for Japanese Prime Minister Koizumi. President Bush was quoted as saying, "I knew he loved Elvis—I didn't realize how much he loved Elvis. He not only knows Elvis' history, he can sing a pretty good Elvis song."

Memphis History

Graceland, Elvis Presley's home and refuge for twenty years, is one of the most visited homes in America today, now attracting over 600,000 visitors annually. It is also the most famous home in America after the White House. In 1991, Graceland Mansion was placed on the National Register of Historic Places. In 2006, Graceland was designated a National Historic Landmark.
