

Scholarship of Teaching and Learning Interest Group

<http://uwf.edu/cutla/sotl.cfm>

Purpose

Faculty interested in the scholarship of teaching and learning meet once a month to discuss topics related to SoTL. The group will discuss the characteristics of SoTL and the various methodologies that might be used when developing a teaching-related research project. The group provides mutual support for participant's SoTL projects, including advice about the collection, analysis and interpretation of data, and preparation of submissions to conferences and journals.

Meeting Times – Remainder of Spring 2009

Thursday, April 9, 2009, Noon - 1:00 p.m.
Building 53, Room 214

Readings on Scholarship of Teaching and Learning

Hutchings, P. (2000). Opening lines: Approaches to the scholarship of teaching and learning. Menlo Park, CA: The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

Selected chapters of this book (and other books related to SoTL) are available for free download as PDF files on the Carnegie Foundation web site.

<http://www.carnegiefoundation.org/publications/index.asp?key=493>

International Society for the Scholarship of Teaching & Learning (ISSOTL)

Online Tutorial on SoTL

Samuel B. Thompson, Craig E. Nelson, and Rita C. Naremore

Description of the tutorial quoted from the introduction:

Materials for the tutorial originated in workshops and conferences sponsored by the American Association of Higher Education (AAHE), the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, the Professional and Organizational Development Network in Higher Education (POD), the Lilly Conferences on College Teaching and various individual colleges and universities. This is a multimedia tutorial including photos, graphics, hyperlinks to sources, audio and video clips, and interactive tasks as well as text.

<http://www.issotl.org/tutorial/sotltutorial/home.html>

Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching

CASTL Program (Carnegie Academy for the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning)

<http://www.carnegiefoundation.org/programs/index.asp?key=21>

Dennis Jacobs, CASTL project on General Chemistry
Discusses the process of developing an SoTL project.

http://gallery.carnegiefoundation.org/collections/castl_he/djacobs/