The Graduate Student Housing at Historic Pensacola Village is a partnership with the University of West Florida Historic Trust. The housing consists of two houses located in the heart of historic downtown Pensacola. The houses are about a 25-minute drive from the main UWF campus, a short drive from the beach, and an easy walk to downtown Pensacola.

In both houses, students will have their own room and will share the common areas. The McVoy House, originally built in 1900, is located at 202 Church Street and is a four bedroom, two bathroom mixed gender house. The house includes a furnished living room, kitchen, front porch, backyard and washer/dryer.

The Quina-Singh House, originally built in 1880, is located at 217 Zarragossa Street and is a two bedroom, one bathroom mixed gender house. This house includes a kitchen, small porches in the front and back, and washer and dryer.
