

Acquisition and Contract Administration Certificate

Student Learning Outcomes

UWF Acquisition and Contract Administration Certificate graduates should be able to do the following:

- Identify the various contract types and select the appropriate contract given an acquisition requirement
- Analyze the nature of government contracting including congressional authority for government contracts and the budgeting process
- Differentiate between the principles of U.S. Government contract law and current acquisition practices
- Students will be able to apply federal contracting principles to procurement decision-making

Find out More about Acquisition and Contract Administration Certificate at UWF:

<https://uwf.edu/ceps/departments/administration-and-law/certificates/acquisition-and-contract-administration/>

10/11/19