

Human Resources Certificate

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the undergraduate certificate in Human Resources Certificate, the graduate will be able to do the following:

1. Describe how HR initiatives can be used to cope with workplace changes such as a more diverse workforce, globalization, and work-life balance.
2. Describe ways in which organizations can manage diversity and reduce conflict in the workplace
3. Apply the principles of psychology to the design of work tasks, teams, and organizations.
4. Apply the principles of psychology to human resources activities (e.g., training, selection, appraisal).
5. Apply the principles of psychology to develop workplace policies and procedures that maximize human potential.

Find out more about a Human Resources Certificate at UWF:

<http://uwf.edu/cseh/departments/psychology/undergradmajors/certificate-in-human-resources/>