

TEAS for Active Duty Military

Ascend Learning / ATI Testing has a program to provide at least one free TEAS exam to active duty service members. To inquire about the free exam, email military.testing@ascendlearning.com.

For service personnel in areas where testing is not available, ATI also has a program to allow an individual within the command to proctor the exam. If there is already a proctor in the area, then ATI will provide the contact information for that individual to the service member taking the exam. The proposed proctor will need to contact ATI in order to receive the details for becoming a proctor. Potential proctors learn to create and account, communicate with ATI and will have to complete an online proctor certification course.

Once the proctor has successfully completed the training and administrative requirements, the service member will be notified to contact the proctor to schedule the exam. After completing the exam, the student will contact ATI to have their transcript sent to UWF.

If you encounter issues with the above process, please contact the UWF MVRC for assistance at 850-474-2550, militarynurse@uwf.edu.
