

2017 National Writing Project Summer Institute
Application Form/Coversheet

Application deadline is March 27, 2017

The following materials are required for the 2016 National Writing Project Summer Institute at UWF:

- UWF National Writing Project coversheet
- Letter of recommendation from a district or school administrator who can speak to your abilities in the area of literacy
- Brief resume of the applicant
- Response to the following:
What experiences have you had as a writer?
Why is writing important to 21st century literacy/education?
How do you teach writing and why?
Why are you interested in the summer institute?

Name _____

Home Address _____

Home E-mail Address _____

Telephone _____

School _____

School E-mail Address _____

Grade Level/Subjects Taught _____

Please send materials along with this coversheet to Kelly Aeppli-Campbell, Co-Director of the UWF National Writing Project (kaepplcampbell@uwf.edu).

Selection of applicants will be a joint decision by UWF and ECSD or SRCSD. Applicants will be notified if selected for an interview. Interviews of applicants will occur in April. Selected teachers will be notified in late April or May.

If you have any questions, please email Dr. Susan James, Director of the UWF National Writing Project (sjames1@uwf.edu).

2017 National Writing Project Summer Institute
Additional Information

Dates: June 12, 2017 - June 29, 2017

Times: 8:30 AM - 4:00 PM Monday through Thursday of each week

Stipend: $100.00 per day

EXPECTATIONS: Participating fellows must attend the entire institute, all twelve (12) days – beginning to end, of the NWP Institute. All participants must be willing to attend follow-up sessions and be open to classroom visits from Dr. James and/or the ELA Department.

