Hi, everyone.

0:10

This is Alex at Big Interview, and I'm 0:11

going to give you a little overview of the site.

0:14

So what is Big Interview?

0:16

Well, it's the number one job interview

0:19

training tool in the world.

0:21

If you have an interview coming up,

0:22

this is the best tool to help you get ready.

0:26

And the way the site is organized

0:27

is pretty straightforward.

0:29

So under the Learning Area, we have a variety of different curriculum depending on how much time

0:32

0:34

you have before your interview.

0:36

So there's a fast track, a mastery track.

0:38

There's also written curriculum, if you're more of a reader.

0:41

There's a negotiation curriculum.

0:42

And we're constantly adding new topics here,

0:46

but this is where the learning happens.

0:48

Then, once you have a nice foundation,

0:51

the second big area is under Practice.

0:53

And here, you'll have a few different varieties of options.

0:57

But let's say we go to Practice Interviews.

0:59

Here is every kind of interview set you can think of.

1:02

General interviews by industry, by competency.

1:06

Admissions interviews.

1:06

Government interviews.

1:08

Everything you can likely face.

1:11

If we go to General, here, you can

1:12

see the interviewers are organized primarily

1:15

by experience level.

1:16

So we have some top 10 questions, entry level,

1:19

mid-level, internship, career change, and so on.

1:23

Under Industry, we had everything from accounting

1:25

through technology.

1:26

Admissions interviews, government interviews-- like I mentioned before.

1:29

1:30

Now here's the thing, if you're not sure

1:32

where to get started, not a problem.

1:34

Come here to the Learn Area and look at the different options.

1:38

And again, you can easily choose what

1:40

track to follow based on how much time you have.

1:44

And in subsequent videos, we're going

1:46

to explore other parts of the site,

1:48

including how to record answers, how to save, how to share.

1:52

All that good stuff coming up in the next video.
