

COVID-19 Emergency Remote Work Procedure for OPS (non-Adjunct) and Student Employees

PROCEDURE ADOPTION DATE: March 16, 2020

APPLICABILITY/ACCOUNTABILITY

The COVID-19 Emergency Remote Work Procedure applies to university OPS (non-Adjunct) and Student employees whose job duties may fully or partially be performed away from the regular work location. COVID-19 Emergency Remote Work Procedure arrangements will remain effective for the duration of the university's response to the COVID-19 pandemic under state and federal guidance or by termination under the Curtailment section of the COVID-19 Emergency Remote Work Agreement.

Department heads and designees have the discretion to approve or deny requests for remote work arrangements based on the prioritization and preservation of university and unit business needs, eligibility of the request, characteristics of the job duties, resources available to support remote work, and the supervisor's ability to provide adequate supervision for the remote employee. UWF Human Resources will record COVID-19 Emergency Remote Work Agreements and will provide support and feedback as needed.

PROCEDURE STATEMENT

The COVID-19 Emergency Remote Work Procedure provides for expedited approval for university OPS (non-Adjunct) and Student employees to temporarily work remotely due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The procedure provides for departmental-level approval of emergency remote work arrangements to achieve the university's objective to increase social distancing for employees.

DEFINITIONS

Emergency remote work refers to temporary arrangements for OPS (non-Adjunct) and Student employees to perform some or all of their job duties away from the regular work location due to the COVID-19 pandemic. In cases where only some of the OPS (non-Adjunct) or Student employee's work duties may be completed remotely, an emergency remote arrangement may include:

- A modified work schedule that combines remote work hours with hours worked at the regular location so that the employee can perform any duties necessary to be completed on site.

Eligibility. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic and the university's objective to increase social distancing for OPS (non-Adjunct) and Student employees, supervisors are encouraged to consider what job duties each employee may be able to complete remotely. OPS (non-Adjunct) and Student employees who may perform some or all of their job duties remotely are eligible for an emergency remote work arrangement with supervisor approval.

PROCEDURE

1. Supervisors and employees should discuss whether the employee's job duties can be completed remotely. It may be possible to utilize a combination of remote work and schedule modification. Supervisors should work with the employee to establish an appropriate schedule.
2. Supervisors should provide appropriate assignments to the employee. If the employee is in a role that does not traditionally accommodate remote work, supervisors must assign other work, projects or professional development that can be performed remotely. These assignments should provide the employee an opportunity to provide written proof of work product back to the supervisor.
3. If eligibility for an emergency remote work arrangement is confirmed, the employee and supervisor should complete the COVID-19 Emergency Remote Work Agreement for OPS (non-Adjunct) and Student Employees and then forward to the appropriate department head or designee for approval. Acknowledgements may be provided via digital or physical signature or via email confirmation of approval.

4. The department head, designee, or employee should forward the signed Agreement to UWF Human Resources at HR@uwf.edu or fax to 850-857-6030. Remote work may begin immediately.
5. UWF Human Resources will receive and record all Agreement submissions. Feedback will only be provided regarding any questions or concerns. Remote work may begin upon form submission and does not require prior HR review.

SECURITY OF DATA

The employee will apply approved safeguards to protect UWF data from unauthorized disclosure or damage and will comply with UWF Policy, GC-01.04-05/18, Public Records Policy. Work performed at the remote work location is considered official UWF business. All records, papers, and correspondence must be safeguarded for their return to the official location. Release or destruction of any records should only be done at the official location according to statute and regulation. Computerized files are considered official records and shall be similarly protected. See UWF Policy, IT-04.02-11/18, UWF Information Security and Privacy Policy.

LIABILITY

UWF will not be liable for damage to the employee's property or changes in taxation requirements that results from participation in the remote work arrangement.

CURTAILMENT OF THE AGREEMENT

The OPS (non-Adjunct) or Student employee may terminate participation in the COVID-19 Emergency Remote Work Agreement at any time. The university reserves the right to terminate this remote work Agreement or adjust the remote work schedule at any time. The employee agrees to limit performance of officially assigned duties to the official work location or to the UWF approved remote work location to the extent possible. Failure to comply with this provision may result in termination of the remote work Agreement and/or other appropriate disciplinary action.
